Food
I am made of shiny silver and am part of a set.
I was carried in a brown leather case.
The three items you see inside the case make up one complete set.
I am fancy with many designs over my pieces.
I am used when it is time to eat.
The person who owned me probably was not poor.

I am a ________________________________.

Work
I am round and made from metal.
I measure about 15 inches across.
I was used in rivers and streams.
People scooped up sand, mud, and water with me.
If they were lucky, I held shiny rewards.

I am a ________________________________.

Tools and Machines
I am made of brown metal.
Two round plates are balanced on my right and left sides.
Chains hold the plates in place and there is a center and a cross bar.
I have several moving parts, but no motor.
In the display there is a pile of gold dust on one of my plates.

I am a ________________________________.

Transportation
I was used to move from one place to another.
I am very fast.
I am used in water.
It cost a lot of money for people to use me.

I am a ________________________________.

Clothing
I am made of cotton.
I can be many different colors.
Sometimes I am striped and checked.
I am useful in making clothes.
There is more than one of me in the display.

I am a ________________________________.

Housing and Household Items

I am made of metal.
I heat up on a fire.
If you want coffee or tea, you would need me.

I am a ________________________________.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTIONS

If you came to California during this time, which job would you choose? Circle one job and explain why you chose it.

Shopkeeper      Photographer      Gold miner      Laundry person      Ship captain

Explain why you chose this job.

_______________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________

Where do you think the people who came to California on the Clipper Ship came from? You can look for answers in the exhibit. Explain why you think so.

_______________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________

Think about some things people use today. What items would you choose for each category below?

Food __________________________________________________________
Work __________________________________________________________
Tools/Machines __________________________________________________
Transportation _________________________________________________
Clothing _______________________________________________________
Housing/Household Items _______________________________________

Look at the objects you chose above and compare them to the objects you found in the History Gallery. Tell two ways that life has changed from then until now.

1. ____________________________________________________________________________________
2. ____________________________________________________________________________________
Food
I come in a cloth sack that says “Sperry’s New Process.”
There is a picture of buildings on the sack.
I come from a mill where they grind me.
I am made from wheat, and after being ground I become very powdery.
I am used in several things you eat.
You must add liquid and other things before you cook me.

I am a ________________________________.

Work
I am made of brown leather.
People sat on me.
I was made in Mexico and used on a ranch.
I was placed on top of an animal and fastened under the belly.
I have many parts and layers.

I am a ________________________________.

Tools and Machines
I am round and my outer case is made of brown leather.
There is a long thin strip of cloth wound inside my case.
The cloth can be pulled out as needed.
I am used to measure land.
The name “I Link” is written on one side of the cloth strip.

I am a ________________________________.

Transportation
I was important to my family, the Moores.
I kept them out of the mud.
I was used in the early 1900s.
I could be used for people or other things.
I am very large.

I am a ________________________________.

Clothing
I am used mostly by women.
I fit on a finger.
I am made of brass, but it looks like gold.
I am small—a bout an inch long.
I am used in sewing.

I am a ________________________________.
Housing and Household Items

I am tall.
I am dark.
I can be hot.
I am useful for meals.
I am made of metal.
You put wood inside me.

I am a _________________________________.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTIONS

Name two ways the mud wagon was like an SUV or a van we use today.

1. ____________________________________________________________________________________

2. ____________________________________________________________________________________

Look at the kitchen with all the items that were used during this time period. Name three things we have in kitchens today that are different from the items you see, and then name three things that we use today that are the same or similar.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Things that are different</th>
<th>Things that are the same or similar</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Think about some things people use today. What items would you choose for each category below?

Food ______________________________________________________

Work ______________________________________________________

Tools/Machines ____________________________________________

Transportation ____________________________________________

Clothing _________________________________________________

Housing/Household Items ___________________________________

Look at the objects you chose above and compare them to the objects you found in the History Gallery. Tell two ways that life has changed from then until now.

1. ____________________________________________________________________________________

2. ____________________________________________________________________________________
Food
I am made of wood with a brightly colored label on both ends.
I was used to move things from one place to another.
I could hold many pieces when packed carefully.
“Pacoast,” “Sunkist,” and “Golden Eagle” are written on some of my labels.

I am a _______________________________.

Work
My end is made of iron with a long wooden handle.
My metal end is rounded with two pointed sides.
If you stand me up, I come up to a man’s waist.
Many Chinese workers used me to build the railroad tracks.
My metal end was designed to break up stone and hard earth.

I am a _______________________________.

Tools and Machines
My frame is made of wood.
I have many metal parts that move.
I probably made a lot of noise when I was running.
I come from Chicago.
I was used to separate wheat from chaff.

I am a _______________________________.

Transportation
I could be very cold inside.
I am orange.
I am very large.
I moved things from one place to another.
I helped the agricultural industry in California.

I am a _______________________________.

Clothing
I am on a poster.
I have ribbons on me.
I am used to advertise oranges.
I am wearing an apron.

I am a _______________________________.

Housing and Household Items
I am made of silver.
I was a prize.
I could be used as decoration in a home.
You could drink out of me.

I am a _______________________________.

FOLLOW-UP QUESTIONS

Name two things that farmers grew in California. How do you know?

1. ____________________________________________________________________________________
2. ____________________________________________________________________________________

Explain how you know __________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________
_______________________________________________________________________________________

Look at the pictures on the boxes (crates) for fruit. These pictures were made to tell about life in California. Name three things you might think about California during this time after looking at the pictures.

1. ____________________________________________________________________________________
2. ____________________________________________________________________________________
3. ____________________________________________________________________________________

Think about some things people use today. What items would you choose for each category below?

- Food ______________________________________________________________________________
- Work _______________________________________________________________________________
- Tools/Machines _______________________________________________________________________
- Transportation _______________________________________________________________________
- Clothing __________________________________________________________________________
- Housing/Household Items _________________________________________________________________________

Look at the objects you chose above and compare them to the objects you found in the History Gallery. Tell two ways that life has changed from then until now.

1. ____________________________________________________________________________________
2. ____________________________________________________________________________________